Café management

MenuNerds for a café's working day

MenuNerds

Help guests choose

Bring coffee, pastries, menu details and ordering entry points together.

Coordinate table service

Give staff a floor map, table requests and a shared view of service.

Keep the menu current

Let managers maintain prices, options and availability through the interface.

Understand the trading day

Review sales, payment methods and the daily close in one workspace.

Find a coffee, pastry or meal

MenuNerds

Browse the menu

Use categories and search to find something for the occasion.

Check the details

See descriptions, current prices and dietary labels.

Choose how to order

Continue to takeaway or ask the team at your table.

Look at the item before choosing

MenuNerds

See the item

Open its photograph and description.

Review the price

Read the current displayed price before ordering.

Continue browsing

Return to the menu to compare other choices.

Explore the takeaway menu

MenuNerds

Choose from the café menu

Review coffee, pastry and meal selections in the ordering catalogue.

Start the pickup flow

Use the takeaway ordering entry point for your selection.

Plan around service hours

Pickup ordering follows the café's current hours and ordering rules.

Open the menu at your table

MenuNerds

Use the table entry point

A valid table QR opens the menu for that table.

Browse before sending

Review the items and selections in the table context.

Keep staff in the service flow

Guest rounds use Waiter review before the kitchen handoff.

When a collection time already has this many live orders, guests are offered the next free time instead. Enter 0 for no limit. This does not replace Pause online ordering, which is still the way to stop taking orders altogether.

☒ Offer "Pay at the counter" on the web checkout

When this is off, web takeaway orders must be paid by card at checkout. Orders already placed to pay at the counter are not affected – they can still be settled on the order close page. This does not change the POS counter till, which always takes cash and EFTPOS.
